"TikTok is an app that invites people to talk and make friends through conversation, voice record, text chat, and other forms of social media." TikTok was formed with the mission to show how fun conversation can be. The company believes it has a special power in its ability to bring people across different cultures together. Tuaswiti Ketsirisup said, "Each person is a new conversation in itself.";

An example of a questionable or potentially offensive TikTok is the following video, which shows some people riding a carousel after hours. The people in the video do not seem to be aware that they are being recorded, and appear to be surprised when they are confronted by a young man who questions them about their behaviour. The following is an example of one of the many videos on TikTok (which all have different names) that could be considered potentially inappropriate. In this video, two people eat and drink on a train that has no other passengers on it. This video was uploaded at 1:59 AM, which is unusual because it is against Chinese law for someone to ride a train alone at any time between midnight and 6:30 AM. As well, the fact that this video was uploaded at 1:59 AM, suggests that the people in the video may have broken this law."

In an article published by The New York Times, it was alleged that "The complaint said more than 852 million people used Musical.ly worldwide in 2021. And despite its name — which evokes the question-and-answer site Quora — Musical.ly has begun to extend beyond allowing users to lip-sync popular songs for one another. Last year, the company rolled out a social-networking component called the Universe that helps users interact with one another." This article was published on The New York Times."

In March 2021, it was announced that ongoing privacy concerns were being raised against the app. According to "Buzzfeed News", posts from users are supposed to be moderated by their followers and friends which would prevent any spam or negative content from reaching other followers and friends. However, some of the posts that reach the top of a user's feed come straight from the app itself."

TikTok was initially launched in February of 2021 by a guy named Evan Spiegel together with an ex-entrepreneur named Bobby Murphy and the app was then acquired by tech giant Snap Inc. in April of 2021. Many people have become new users thanks to its ability to allow users to share their own videos, short videos, and more while answering viewers' specific questions and sharing advice on how to live life better. It's been reported that the userbase has increased massively since July 5th, where it reached over 100 million monthly users worldwide. The app is now recognized as one of the biggest social media apps in the world alongside other popular social media apps such as Facebook. By the end of August, Spiegel removed a number of Twitter and Facebook-like features (emotions, likes, photos) from the app in order to make it more suitable for its users."

Efforts to curb the spread of predatory behavior on this app using the reporting feature have largely been unsuccessful. A news article published by The Guardian noted that "reporting features that allow users to report others for inappropriate behavior have had only limited success." Some users feel that there is little incentive to report a video since they would not be sure if any action would be taken in response to their report. There is also no clear way for a user who has been reported in error to prove that they are not being used against them in this manner. This article also noted that "According to the app, when a user reports a troubling video, it is viewed by actual people who are trained to remove any content that promotes criminal behavior. But when asked whether these people were subject to employment laws through an official employer, TikTok did not respond.",
